How To Play

This game is best if played with at least 6 players, but the more players the better. This is like tag except to avoid being tagged you must be holding on to a buddy. To start, one person is "IT" and one person is the runner. Everyone else should be with a buddy already. The IT tries to tag the runner. To be safe the runner must link arms with a pair of buddies. Whoever is on the opposite side of the pair is now the runner and must avoid being tagged until they can join a different pair. If they are tagged, they become "IT"
